

1. A method for completing an electronic form comprising:
obtaining an electronic form having one or more fields to be completed;
obtaining a user profile containing user data corresponding to the one or more fields of the electronic form; and completing at least one of the fields of the electronic form with the user data upon the transfer of the user profile to the electronic form.

ADD AI

[illegible]